COLLECTIONS OF CHOICE FLOWERS

OFFERED BY

LONG BRO'S, BUFFALO, N. Y.

SPRING, 1878.

UNDOUBTEDLY THE LOWEST PRICES AT WHICH STOCK OF EQUAL QUALITY HAS EVER BEEN OFFERED. (See 2d reason why plant lovers should buy these Collections.)

THESE MARVELLOUSLY low prices will hold only from date of receipt of our Catalogue, to April 15, 1878. Orders MUST REACH US on or before April 15 as the latest limit. DO NOT FORGET THIS.

EXAMINE THE LISTS, and notice the fine assortments and large range to select from. No inferior varieties are included.

REASONS WHY

We can make this Extraordinary Offer.

1st. Because we strictly limit the time of these cheap dollar offers to a certain season, namely, from date of receipt of our Catalogue, to April 15, 1878 (orders at these rates MUST REACH US on or before this date). About April 15 we commence giving tens of thousands of plants in our houses, their final shift from small pots, to the ones in which they are sold, during the planting season, commencing some weeks later. With this final shift, the plants require nearly double the space they did earlier, hence after this date our houses and frames are crowded to their utmost, and no stock can be kept on hand, but what will fairly "pay for the space it occupies," while previous to this date we are glad to keep spare space which always exists thus early, when regular stock is in small pots, filled with this special stock, offering it cheap, in order to realize somewhat from such space, which otherwise would be at a discount. After April 15, we can not afford to sell plants at less than Catalogue rates.

2d. Because with growing only a limited number of kinds, and they the best, our propagations of each are not only great in extent, but the operation of propagation and growing is so greatly simplified as to give us advantages.

REASONS WHY

Plant Buyers should Patronize these Lists.

1st. Because as regards varieties offered at these low rates, none but the best are included, comprising sorts described in our Catalogue for 1878. See introduction to Catalogue.

2d. Because as regards good, carefully grown stock, all the plants offered are first class. Three-fourths of them will have been pinched back one month or more, before April 1st, and will be breaking into side shoots. By putting them into three-inch pots when received, they will soon make fine bushy plants, ready to be used in any kind of decoration, a month later. These plants are not mere "rooted cuttings" from the cutting bed (frequently the case with stock offered very cheap), but established plants, carefully grown in pots, for months.

3d. Because an extended experience shows, that during the period intervening between March 25 and April 15, the weather is usually of such a character—neither too hot nor too cold—as to render this season, and perhaps an additional month, the safest time of the entire year for receiving plants from a distance, and they generally start into growth quickly at this time.

4th. Because the stock will be received sufficiently early to get finely going by the time it will be safe to put outside.

5th. Because, no matter for what purpose you are buying plants, whether for summer decoration or winter decoration, an investment of any amount, made for these Collections, will yield greater returns to the purchaser than the same amount spent in any other way.

6th. Because we pack the plants with the utmost care, in strong packages, and guarantee the arrival of all packages to place of destination.

BUT NOTICE.

At these extremely low prices, purchasers are strictly confined to the Collections on this sheet. Where other kinds or such a variety as the Collections with the Premiums, on page 4, do not embrace, are wanted, they will be furnished at regular Catalogue rates. WE CANNOT BREAK THE COLLECTIONS.

PRICES.

(Order Collections by number.)

One Collection, . . .	$ 1.00 by Mail, post paid.
Six Collections, . . .	5.00 " " "
Thirteen Collections, . . .	10.00 " " "

If Collections are ordered to be sent by Express, the stock will be uniform in quality with such as is sent by Mail. Sufficient stock will however be added to compensate in full, usually, for transportation charges.

COLLECTIONS FOR THE GARDEN AND GROUNDS.

By receiving these Collections from March 25 to April 15, potting directly, and keeping in a hot bed or suitable sunny window for 4 to 6 weeks longer, they will be in excellent condition for soon making a continuous display.

The Massing and Ribbon Bed systems of planting we recommend as generally being very satisfactory to cultivators. They are neither expensive means of decorating, necessarily, as small beds, say for instance, three or four feet across, may be just as complete in themselves, as some many times larger. The circular or oval forms of bed are safe to try for these purposes, although any pleasing and shapely designs may be adopted, and such fine distinct kinds as Gen. Grant and other Geraniums, Gnaphalium, Achrythes, Centaureas, Golden Feather, Coleus Verschaffeltii, Canna, brilliant scarlet or other colors of Phlox Drummondii, blue or other colors of Pansy, White Candytuft, Escholtzia, Ricinus, Amaranthus, Portulacas, and many others are deserving of recommendation. Gen. Grant and some other Geraniums, are unquestionably among the finest plants for this purpose that can be grown, considering the ease with which they are managed and the certainty of their giving satisfaction, and nothing that can be introduced would be likely to prove more pleasing, all the season, than one or more beds of these, be they large or small.

As a rule, if you would have beautiful plants and a profusion of flowers and foliage, plant in rich soil.

COLLECTIONS FOR VASES, WINDOW BOXES, HANGING BASKETS, &amp;c.				1 Premium article.....	20
The same kinds of plants that are adapted to culture in Vases, are also the ones most suitable for Window Boxes or Hanging Baskets. In Vases it is not usually convenient to provide supports for climbers, and these are therefore generally dispensed with altogether. Any of the climbers also do well as droppers. The plan of planting is to place attractive upright growers in the center for the body of the display, and then arrange droopers and trailers on the outside to hang over the edge.				9	1.75
In growing plants in Vases, etc., a considerable number being grouped together, must necessarily subsist on a comparatively small bulk of earth. This earth should not only be of a fertile nature to begin with, but it should be kept abundantly watered all during the season, or else the plants will suffer and become unattractive. Slight waterings are deceptive, as the Vase, Basket or Window Box externally may appear sufficiently wet and the center still dry. In hot, dry weather, they should be thoroughly watered every day.

COLLECTIONS FOR WINTER FLOWERING.

The plants in the following lists are specially adapted to Winter flowering.

Such plants as Carnations, Bouvardias, Violets, Solanums, and even Geraniums, Lantanas, Abutilons, etc., that may be desired for growing in pots in the winter, can be grown in the garden, planted out in summer, to excellent advantage, as they make a better growth than if kept in pots, are more easily managed, and can be lifted without detriment in the fall. They should be taken up and potted as early as the first few weeks of September, in order that they may fully recover from the operation, before cold weather sets in.

Avoid taking plants that have been thus managed into their winter quarters too soon, but gradually inure them to the confined air of the room or bay window, by keeping them inside during cold nights or cool weather, allowing them to be fully exposed to the air in partial shade, as under the piazza, or at the side of the house, during fine days. In the case of having a conservatory for the plants, they may be placed in it at once, but an abundance of air should be allowed to circulate through the structure at all times when the temperature will admit.

OF THE SELECT ASSORTMENT OF

PLANTS, SEEDS, ETC.

FOR SALE BY

LONG BROS., BUFFALO, N. Y.

SPRING, 1878—INTRODUCTORY.

We claim to offer in the present Catalogue only choice, selected kinds and varieties of stock.

Instead of aiming to present the "longest lists," and the "newest" and highest priced sorts, we confine ourselves to a limited number, of such varieties as show themselves to be the best for the purposes for which flowers are bought, and such as will not yield disappointment, where due allowance is made for the adaptability of each.

We constantly pay close attention to testing new sorts for the purpose of embodying in our Catalogue all such as prove meritorious. Rather than offer long lists of 50 to 150 varieties of certain kinds, including—as such lists invariably do—good, inferior and often absolutely worthless kinds for general culture, we aim to offer only the best that can be selected from large collections, even though in numbers of varieties, our lists rank among the least.

In determining upon the suitability of kinds for our Catalogue, we measure their value by submitting them to the judgment of our customers here in Buffalo, who by making purchases direct from our greenhouses, have the advantage of seeing stock grown to comparative perfection, and of choosing or discarding, just as they deem proper, when the stock is seen. Any variety that is not good enough to captivate the attention, as well as the purse, of intelligent and keen judges, when shown in a well-grown condition and in flower in our houses, is, in our opinion, unfit to be offered to others, who must rely on Catalogue descriptions in making selections.

When we state that we are the leading retailers of Flowering Plants, Seeds and Bulbs, in our city of near 150,000 inhabitants, and that our customers are among the most capable and exacting purchasers to be found anywhere, the value of such a severe test may be more easily comprehended. We are sure that few establishments in the country possess and make use of such excellent opportunities for determining the true value of plants and other stock in the hands of the people, as we do by these means to which we allude. It would be well if plant buyers kept in mind the fact, that inferior varieties of Plants are, almost without exception, the easiest to propagate and grow to a salable size, and in Seeds the most prolific seeders, hence in each instance the most profitable to sell.

We would suggest to amateurs, that as a rule they will find investments made for high priced new kinds unsatisfactory, no matter how much they may be praised by those who have grown a large stock to sell. Could the money that is annually spent on purchasing such stock—perhaps nine out of every ten of which kinds prove, in the long run, to be comparatively worthless—be invested in well tried kinds, judiciously selected, greater satisfaction would be the result.

Another advantage gained by offering only limited numbers, and they the best, and also by growing the same kinds for our shipping trade that we do for our home trade, is, that our business is greatly simplified through not being hampered by multitudes of useless sorts, so that we are able to sell much cheaper than it would be possible for us to do, if two or three times our present number of sorts were cultivated and offered for sale.

ORDERING AND SHIPPING.

Plants by Express.—Where the distance will permit of it, our customers will find it to their interests to order their plants selected from this Catalogue, sent by Express, as the plants thus sent at Catalogue prices will average somewhat larger than those sent out by mail. We do not prepay EXPRESS CHARGES, but to every order for GREENHOUSE, TENDER AND HARDY PLANTS, BULBS, ETC., amounting to TWO DOLLARS AND UPWARDS, selected at Catalogue prices, and which is to be forwarded by Express, WE ADD WITHOUT COST SUFFICIENT STOCK TO COMPENSATE, USUALLY IN FULL, FOR TRANSPORTATION CHARGES. The stock thus added will be of desirable quality and kind, but invariably subject to our choice; if, however, customers will mention the kinds of plants which they prefer as such compensation, we will comply with their desires as nearly as our stock will allow.

Plants, Seeds, etc., by Mail.—We prepay postage on all stock sent by MAIL. However, WE CANNOT ACCEPT, EITHER COMPLETE IN THEMSELVES, OR AS PART OF MAIL SEED ORDERS, ORDERS FOR PLANTS OF LESS AMOUNT THAN ONE DOLLAR, unless the cost of packing and postage is sent to us according to the following rates: For a single plant, either alone or with seeds, an addition of ten cents; three or more, or less than One Dollar's worth, an addition of fifteen cents is required to the combined amount of their prices. Seed orders of any amount are accepted.

The Safe Arrival of Packages Guaranteed.—We guarantee the safe arrival of Seeds and Bulbs to any distance, and of live Plants, to all distances requiring not more than Eight Days' travel.

Notice.—We make it a rule to forward plants during the first part of each week, in order that they may reach their place of destination before Sunday. Unless we notify customers to the contrary, by Postal Card, their orders will be filled during the fore part of the first week following, or of the same week of their arrival, if received early enough.

VEGETABLE SEEDS.

As with Flowering Plants and Seeds, so in the Vegetable department of our Catalogue we aim to present only choice kinds and varieties of stock, and such as will not disappoint the planter when due allowance is made for the adaptability of each.

Some people ask to have the seeds warranted, that they buy. In answer to such, we would say that we have adopted the rule of NOT WARRANTING SEEDS of any description. Every person who has had considerable experience in seed sowing, knows that of such a nature are the unforeseen contingencies to which seeds are always more or less subject, in sowing, that even the very best and freshest seeds will now and then fail, in the hands of old and experienced gardeners, while with the inexperienced the chances of failure are yet greater; therefore, with this statement, our deciding not to warrant seeds cannot but seem reasonable, we think, to our customers.

Notice.—At quoted rates we forward all SEEDS free by mail, on receipt of prices here given, except in the cases of BEANS, CORN, PEAS, and HEDGE, GRASS and CLOVER SEEDS. When these articles are wanted by Mail, postage must be added to the amount as set down under their respective heads; but of course these will be sent at Catalogue rates by Express, at the cost of the purchaser. Half-pounds furnished at pound rates.
